May 2008

Dear Graduates:

On behalf of the entire John Jay community, I would like to extend to you our sincerest congratulations.

Your graduation is an important day for you and your family. It recognizes the perseverance and commitment that you have given to your scholarly pursuits here at the College.

Many of you will help solve the complex problems facing the criminal justice system. Others will play pivotal roles in other public service organizations and improve the quality of life within our city, our state, our nation and our world.

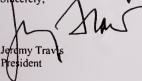

I am confident that your John Jay education will enhance your abilities to perform the important work of pursuing justice, whether in your careers or simply in your lives as engaged citizens of the world.

We wish you peace, happiness and professional fulfillment. It is our hope that graduation only reinforces the bond you have with the College. You will always be a part of John Jay, and our doors will always be open to you.

I urge you to join the Alumni Association and make use of all the resources that our College has to offer. And, the John Jay College website is a convenient way to keep abreast of activities at the College, no matter where you may be.

As John Jay graduates, you are symbols of hope and success for all our current and future students.

Dear Class of 2008

As a graduate of John Jay College, you are prepared for a lifetime of learning, whether on the job, in graduate school, or in professional development and continuing education. The habits of study and thought that you formed as a student at the college will stay with you forever and will provide a solid foundation for all your future endeavors.

Earning a baccalaureate degree is an important achievement, and I congratulate you on reaching this goal. I know that it was not always easy. You spent counties hours in the library, you studied on commuter trains, heads buried in books as the scenery flashed by, you stayed up late while others in your family slept queetly in adjacent rooms. You held down a job while going to school full time. You balanced the demands of your complicated lives—the needs of parents, siblings, children, and others—with the demands of your academic goals. And you made it! You have earned your degree, and John Jay Collège is proud to call you a graduate.

We hope that you will stay connected to the John Jay family through visits to the campus and involvement in alumni affairs. You will always have a place in our halb—and our hearts.

Dear Graduates of 2008,

You are to be commended on a job well done! This is a milestone in your life of which you should be very proud. Pause and allow yourself to think about what this milestone means for you, your family, John Jay College, and your community; you are now an educated professional.

As a college graduate, you will join the ranks of those who qualify as leaders; thus, many of your family members and others in our society will have high expectations of you. Be assured that your John Jay degree has adequately prepared you to take the next steps in life toward a bright future. Whatever you choose to do, continue to look upward and to move forward, always challenging yourselves to be the best you can be. Therefore, you should always remember, if you give to the world the best that you have, the best will come back to you.

Sincerely.

Congratulations to you on your achievement!

Graduation is a culmination of many hours of study and learning. But it is also a beginning of the next phase of your life, which will probably present a new set of challenges and achievements. Each new challenge will provide you with another opportunity to learn and to continue your education.

John Jay College has been your home for learning and will continue to be here for you in the future. There are opportunities for continued education and professional training, consultation with faculty and staff and becoming an active member of our Alumni Association.

We encourage you to come back to visit and to remain involved with the John Jay community.

Best wishes to you all!

What a pleasure it is to commend you on your accomplishment! Whether your journey has been smooth and swift or long and arduous, you have made it to this finish line and you should be well prepared to begin the next adventure. I hope that you will count your time at John Jay – both in and outside of the elassroom – among the highlights of your life; but I hope even more that the John Jay expenence will be a stepping stone toward fulfilling other dreams and achieving even lofter professional, academic, and personal goals.

As you graduate, you should take with you a lifelong enthusiasm for learning along with the tools of critical thinking and the competencies with which you ean make a difference in the world. Above all, I hope that you also take with you a sense of responsibility and a passion for justice such that you will not only do well, but you will also do good in whatever arena you choose.

It has been my privilege to work with both undergraduate and graduate students. I look forward to seeing you all at Cummencement tu joyfully acknowledge the completion of your degrees and, as the name of the ceremony implies, to salute you as you begin new challenges and accomplishments.

Congratulations to the class of 2008 and best wishes for continued success in all of your

Dear Graduates:

As the 37th President of the Student Council, I would like to extend to you my sincerest congratulations on your academic achievements.

As college graduates, you have distinguished yourselves from all others by persevering in your academic goals, and by proving to yourselves that you have the intellectual fortitude to accomplish great things.

The education that John Jay College has conferred upon you has equipped you to take on the many worthwhile challenges that lie ahead. Also, your accomplishments convey to the nation and to the world that you are a leader in your field, and that you have been enabled to face the many complicated issues that exist within the public sector. So, as you go forth into the world, and while you keep John Jay College in your hearts, utilize your knowledge and talents to serve as a shining example of hope for all others to follow.

Lastly, as an athlete continues to engage in rigorous training methods, I ask you to stay in top form scholarly by continuing as a student of your chosen area of study.

The best of luck to you!

Dear Graduates:

As the Vice-President of Student Government I would like to congratulate you all on this very special milestone. I am especially delighted to be a part of the 2008 Graduating Class. Let us not forget the remarkable achievement and hard work that we put in to earn our degree.

Transferring in to John Jay was a big step to take, coming from a small Community College with a body of a 1,000 students to John Jay with roughly 15,000 students. Transfer students define diversity in which the world that we live in. I encourage you to stay connected to your John Jay family if your not connected get connected.

However, it seems like career jobs are asking for at least a Masters Degree. I recommend you to further your education. For it will not hurt you but it will make you wiser, we have to keep up with the world for it is continually upgrading. If you do not pursue higher education then I strongly encourage you to join the Alumni Association, so that you can advance your networking capabilities from John Jay College and utilize it in the real world.

Let us be the best John Jay Grads that we can be to help change society and the Criminal Justice System. The world is expecting great things from John Jay College; let's give the world what they are expecting.

God Bless you and good luck with your future.

Sincerely,

Dear Graduate,

I am proud to be a John Jay Student and I'm sure you are to. I want to thank all of the students who elected me to the position of Treasurer. I would like to take this opportunity to wish you all the most success in your future endeavors.

Allow your self the opportunity to show the great quality of a John Jay education by being more active in your community and the world around you. Help people by motivating them to do positive things both for themselves and those around them.

Confidence is also developed through encouraging people around you. Don't be afraid to embark on a world that is thriving for the greatness of those who have the ability to make the rational decisions. Don't dwell on life's mistakes; instead learn from them to pave way for a better future. Self-confidence is self acceptance, so don't be afraid to believe in yourself.

Finally, I would like to thank all of you for your time, suggestions, encouragement and opinions. I look forward to hearing great things about John Jay students/alumni in the future.

Best Regards,

Dear Graduates:

I am honored to have this opportunity to congratulate you for your achievements. Your graduation is an important day for you and your family. I know that everyone of you have worked very hard to reach this day and I am sure it will pay off. I urge you to foster and hearten a society of future leaders.

In life there always are perennial obstacles but even crucial is the will to come over these hurdles. I believe that John Jay College has provided you with the tools and knowledge, to exploit them is within you. I assure you there will be bumps in life and you may want to hide from the future, but remember there are many of us who feel the same way. Always remember that you only need common sense to learn how to be an effective leader.

I would encourage all of you to always keep in mind to give back to your community. Therefore, I would persuade you to join the Alumni Association and keep in touch. Good luck in future endeavors.

Congratulations again!

Sincerely yours.

WAYNE EDWARDS, MA. MPHIL

May 29,2008

Dear Class of 2008:

It brings me sincere pleasure to offer my heartfelt "Congratulations" to you and your loved ones on the glorious occasion of your graduation from John Jay College of Criminal Justice. Attaining a college degree is a life-altering experience, the benefits of which will be revealed endlessly as you continue on this journey called life.

Havingjust started at John Jay College this semester, I feel a unique kinship with the Class of 2008 as your Commencement Ceremony marks my first as a member of the John Jay family. Although I did not get to know most of you personally, I take great pride in knowing that you join the "real world" prepared to become productive citizens who fully represent the intellectual and moral values that John Jay College of Criminal Justice embodies.

Whatever your plans may be from this day forward. I urge you to go forth proudly and remain resolute in your desire and determination to leave your mark on the world.
